Highland Has The

VCR•RABBIT

THE VCR "MULTIPLYING" SYSTEM

Like Having A Second VCR

- Sends the video/audio signal directly from your VCR to any of the other TV sets in your house.
- Lets you watch a video tape on any TV set while a regular TV program is showing on any other.
- Sends Cable TV and Satellite TV from a single hook-up to all of the sets in your house.
- If your VCR is a wireless remote, VCR-Rabbit lets you control all functions of your VCR from any TV in your house.
- Hooks up in minutes.

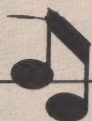

It's true, now every TV in your home can share a single VCR without moving it! The VCR Rabbit simply sends your VCR video/audio signal to any TV in your home that is hooked up to it. See this exciting electronic marvel at Highland today. Multiply your TV enjoyment.

Care of Video Programs

Home video may be new to you, but there's nothing mysterious about videocassettes. Like the audio cassettes everyone is familiar with, videocassettes contain magnetic tape. A few simple rules are all you need to remember to keep the videocassettes and your video equipment in good working order.

1. Video equipment is adversely affected by condensation that forms when temperatures change. All videocassettes and playback machines should be at room temperature for two hours or longer before being used.

2. Handle videocassettes as carefully as you do your phonograph records. Above all, never touch the tape surface itself. Dust, dirt or fingerprints can cause deterioration in signal quality.

3. Keep videocassettes away from direct sunlight or heat.

4. Never put them on top of a TV or video recorder.

5. Store videocassettes in their proper containers, in an upright position. The less you handle them, the longer they will last.

6. Always rewind videocassettes completely before removing from the recorder. It only takes a few seconds.

7. Video programs contain an individual and traceable serial number as well as "stop copy" protection. If your TV picture rolls when a cassette encoded with "stop copy" is played, simply adjust the vertical hold control on your TV until the picture is stable.
